Family Literacy Workshops

READ USA is hosting a series of Family Literacy Workshops designed to empower you with the tools and strategies needed to support your children's reading and literacy development. These workshops will be held at different libraries across the city in July and August.

At these workshops, you will have the opportunity to learn fun, engaging ways to help your child enjoy reading and build their reading skills at home. You will also receive free resources and reading activity guides and have the opportunity to connect with other parents to share experiences and celebrate successes.
